“ What I remember most about Randy, aside from his awesome ball pocketing skills, was his great sense of humor. I remember one Friday afternoon a party of 10-12 had rented out some tables for a group event and were playing on the table Randy and I usually practice on. He said to me, in a serious and haughty voice, "what is this country club coming to, renting out the tables of charter members to these commoners." He was also kind and considerate and was always willing to offer advice to teammates and opponents alike. He was a pleasure to play a game with, which is probably the nicest thing one could say about a fellow pool player.

Claude Quigley the words you spoke you said was as I've known him. For his life as a pool player he will never be forgotten. He loved and respected every other pool player weather their skill level a 2 or a 7. Well his in a better place today because his playing pool where ever he is. Rest in peace Randy you will be missed by a lot of people and most of all his beautiful family.

At Dooly's on a Friday night, I'd look around and say, "Who is the Best pool player here tonight?" They'd say this person or that person, and I'd say, "No, Randy Tucker is the Best player here." He hooked one night in the draw, and when he came over to the table he said, "Take it easy on me will you." That was not just a joke, but rather a compliment. Getting to play Randy was an honor, and winning meant nothing, just the opportunity to play and have fun. We had many conversations over the weeks. He didn't mind telling the Truth. You will always be remembered as a Friend.
