

William 'Billie' Davis

January 23, 1961 - March 3, 2025

A Tribute to Billie Davis

With profound sadness, we announce the passing of William “Billie” Davis, who left this world on March 3, 2025, at the age of 64. Born in Sydney Mines, Cape Breton, Billie later settled in Bedford, Nova Scotia, where he built a life filled with love, music, and laughter.

Billie’s career took him from the world of computers in Nova Scotia to the rugged landscapes of Fort McMurray, where he found joy in operating rock trucks. No matter where he worked, he was admired for his hard work, kindness, and the way he made everyone feel at home in his presence. Music was Billie’s greatest passion, and whether he was strumming his guitar, singing a tune, or playing his harmonica, he could brighten any room. If you close your eyes, you can almost hear him now, playing Yard Sale by Sammy Kershaw, lost in the melody. He was also a dedicated fitness enthusiast, a gentle giant whose strength was matched only by his warm and generous heart.

The love between Billie and his wife, Sherry, was something truly special. For 30 years, they were not just partners but soulmates, always hand in hand, navigating life’s journey together. Their happiest moments were simply being with each other, a love story that will never fade.

Billie was predeceased by his parents, William Davis Sr. and Annette (Geddes) Davis. He is survived by his devoted wife, Sherry (Devoe) Davis, his cherished sister and best friend, Patricia Bragg, his beloved niece Erin Bragg, brothers-in-law Glenn Devoe and Perry Devoe (Lorna), sister-in-law Sharonann (Sandy Paquet), and a host of nieces, nephews, and dear friends. Though he is gone, Billie's spirit will live on in the music he loved, the friendships he built, and the love he gave so freely. A celebration of Billie's life will be announced at a later date.)
